

BRAND MANUAL

Lobby⁺

PLAY. CONNECT. CREATE.
TOGETHER.

The global home for gaming industry.

VERSION 1 · SEPTEMBER 2026

BRAND ESSENCE

One home for everyone who makes games happen.

Open

A more open gaming industry — every role, every path in, visible and welcome.

Playful

Serious about careers, never serious in tone. Warmth over corporate polish.

Discoverable

"There's always something new to discover." Curiosity is the product feeling.

TAGLINES IN ROTATION

Play. Connect. Create. Together.

The global home for gaming industry.

People. Opportunities. Games. All in one place.

Different pieces. Same game.

There's always something new to discover.

A more open gaming industry.

LOGO

The wordmark.

A rounded, friendly logotype with a single spark — the “there's more here” signal. Always set in near-black ink on light backgrounds.

CLEARSPACE

Keep a margin equal to the height of the “L” free on all sides. Nothing else enters that zone.

MINIMUM SIZE

Never smaller than 24px tall on screen or 10mm in print — the spark disappears below that.

BACKGROUNDS

Ink wordmark on cream, white or light lilac only. On dark or photo backgrounds, use the white-out version.

DON'T

Don't recolor the wordmark, stretch it, add a drop shadow, or separate the spark from the “y.”

COLOR PALETTE

Warm cream base, violet-to-lilac range, one neon accent.

Hex values read directly off the approved mascot and lockup art — confirm against source files before production use.

Ink

#1A1023

Wordmark, body copy

Overalls Purple

#4B2E86

Primary brand color

Lilac

#8B6EF2

Secondary / pattern crosses

Neon Pink

#F45FC0

Glow accent, CTAs — use sparingly

Cream

#FBF3E7

Backgrounds

Sunset Peach

#FFD9A8

Warm highlight, gradients

Sky

#93A9F7

Cool highlight, gradients

Lavender Text

#B9AEDD

Muted copy on dark

TYPOGRAPHY

Rounded and bold up top, clean and quiet below.

Aa

DISPLAY / HEADLINES

A rounded, bubbly geometric sans — closest open equivalents: Fredoka, Baloo 2, or Nunito Extra Bold. Used only for the wordmark and short, punchy headlines.

ALL CAPS · WIDE TRACKING FOR LABELS

Aa

BODY / UI TEXT

A clean humanist sans for taglines, captions and product copy — Inter, Poppins or General Sans all read consistently with the current assets.

Sentence case. Short lines. One idea per sentence — match the tagline rhythm ("Different pieces. Same game.")

THE MASCOT

A creature that hatches, made of pieces.

It represents everything you can discover, build and achieve inside Lobby. The mascot is Lobby itself — an easter egg.

Simple, memorable expression

Two glowing eyes, nothing more — reads at any size.

Iconic overalls

The star patch is its one fixed brand mark; keep it on every variant.

Modular, customizable pieces

The cracked shell doubles as a controller D-pad — the industry motif, always visible.

Six color variants exist for teams, achievements or seasonal moments — the shell, glow and star patch stay constant; only the overalls and accent shift.

EXPRESSIONS

Five moods, one face.

Use expressions to match the moment in-product — onboarding milestones, empty states, error states, achievements — never as decoration alone.

Happy

Successful actions — profile published, application sent.

Curious

Onboarding, empty states, "add your first game."

Excited

Milestones — job match, event RSVP confirmed.

Calm

Waiting states, loading, settings.

Supportive

Mentoring, messages, community moments.

VOICE & TONE

Warm, short, and a little curious.

Do

Short sentences. One idea each.

Sentence case, not Title Case, for taglines.

Speak to the person, not the market ("your first game", not "users' first titles").

Let curiosity carry the copy — "there's always something new."

Use the mascot's expressions to soften bad news (errors, empty states).

Don't

Corporate jargon — "synergy", "leverage", "ecosystem stakeholders."

Long, stacked clauses. If it needs a comma twice, split it.

Hype without substance — let the product's specificity do the selling.

Mixing taglines mid-flow — pick one per surface and stay consistent.

Using the mascot to deliver serious legal, billing or account-loss messages.

APPLICATIONS

The system in the wild.

APP ICON

LINKEDIN / SOCIAL COVER

FULL EXPLORATION REFERENCE

LOBBY BRAND MANUAL